The Teleportal: An interactive gateway of the Virtual Worlds Museum™

The presentation showcases the Teleportal, an interactive map and gateway that connects visitors to virtual world platforms. It transforms the research and archives of the Virtual Worlds Museum™ into an experiential tool that encourages visitors to find, explore, and enjoy virtual worlds.

"the metaverse is dead" - no! there is a big difference between death and pre-life.

Beyond the hype, playing the long game. WE are creating the metaverse. WE are shaping the culture.

May be a jumping off point:

Augusto Boal & the Theatre of the Oppressed - building on the concept of improv, "Yes, and" and the opportunity to create space for social action:

zodie progress on their work!

Learning how to code in Rust! Working on a plugin to use this in Godot.

Networking

IRO - peer to peer library. You can use it to generate an ID for your session, and then people can connect peer-to-peer.

this also has application for a decentralised file storage system.

Also working on a pull user interface similar to Godot.

Early testing show about 600 clients in a session together.
