Spaces, should have some "canned responses" about common questions, and have some agreed answers.
Perhaps a common inbox for us to get on the same page.

Better to be open to whatever people want, so whatever world you like, start building, and let's see what bubbles up. So if there's awesome assets or implementations of glTF, then share it!

Whole bunch of people in a sandbox environment, playing together. The Sandbox could be a world but could be a repo, could be a Discord.

Virtual Burn - gap in the market seeing that it's not happening with Burning Man anymore. Except that it's next week, lol

What do people get excited about?
The interaction between virtual and physical - indie and solo, but this hard! The market isn't ready.
How do we tackle this?
