WebXR Hackathon has a new name: "Immersive Web Fest"

@msub2 is still organizing, and has ideas of how to break up the hackathons around specific topics.

Q from fire: Do you need help making starter kits? Godot as a platform could serve as a foundation for a starter kit for projects for example. Starter kit for aframe, cryptovoxels, etc. // antpb2 offered to possibly provide hubs starter kits as well.

msub2: Working off of a template would be acceptable imo.

Fire: Should we form a working group to help make this?

If the theme is around decentralization, we would feel comfortable, but if it were exclusively a blockchain hackathon it may not be a good fit, as are made up of a split of preferences related to web3.

note: We have a hackathon section in the OMI/Angell discord, if that is useful let us know :)

I'll be creating a section on the WebXR discord and submitting a call for participation for OMI later this week!

Discussed Avacon, there is a panel Mal is running at noon (Timezone?) on December 11th.

What it is:
When it is:
Where it is happening:
Who is going?:
Why you should care:
